

I am an Indiana resident and at last enjoy peace at home in the mornings, helped by Indiana's "no call" list. Formerly I would get three calls a day. Now all I get is this nauseating pre-recorded affair on my answering machine from Direct reservation Center. I have no wish to go to Disney World. The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. If any, make the law even tougher. I want my quiet back for good!
